The opportunity

Your congregation is more diverse than ever

Language divides the room

Visitors, immigrants and international members miss the heart of the message when it's only in one language.

Traditional solutions don't scale

Human interpreters, headsets and FM transmitters are expensive, hard to staff, and limited to one or two languages.

Accessibility is often overlooked

Hard-of-hearing members are left out when there is no live text of what's being said.

Glossa removes the barrier — instantly, affordably, in every language in the room.

What is Glossa

Every word, in every language — in real time

Glossa is an AI-powered live translation platform built for churches and events. Connect your audio, start streaming, and your message is translated instantly into 100+ languages. Attendees simply open a link on their phone and listen or read along in their own language.

No special hardware. No interpreter booth. No app store. Just a browser and your existing audio.

How it works

Three simple steps to connect your congregation

1

Connect audio stream

Link your church's audio system or microphone to Glossa. No special hardware required — use your existing audio input.

2

Start streaming

Begin your service and let Glossa handle the translation. You'll see live captions on the dashboard in real time.

3

Listen in your language

Attendees pick their language on their phone and instantly hear or read the translation as you speak.

Set up in under 10 seconds — and run the whole event from your phone.

Frequently asked questions

Q. What equipment do we need?

Just a stable internet connection and a way to connect your audio system or microphone. Most churches start with their existing setup.

Q. How many languages at once?

Glossa translates into 100+ languages simultaneously, so you can reach every group in a single service.

Q. Can we show captions on screen?

Yes — integrate with ProPresenter, OBS and others via iframe or webhook to display translations live.

Q. Do listeners need an app?

No app download required — listeners join through any modern web browser on their phone or tablet.

Q. Is there a limit on listeners?

No limits and no per-listener charge. Whether 1 or 1,000 people listen, you pay the same per language.

Q. How do we get started?

Sign up, get 4 hours free, and reach out anytime — we'll help you set everything up quickly.
